BUILDING FOUNDATIONS FOR FAIRNESS

Digitization is transforming our world - and for emerging technologies to benefit everyone, they need to include a diversity of voices from the beginning. The Canadian Blockchain Association for Women (CBAW) is Canada's organization for the advancement of women in the high-growth blockchain sector.

With support from our valued partners and members, CBAW engages in groundbreaking projects including public advocacy, gender disparity research and digital literacy for Indigenous youth and other groups at high risk of future workforce displacement. Interesting and exciting events are held throughout the year to educate, raise awareness and support fantastic causes.

Align with CBAW and become part of our journey towards building a more equitable and inclusive future - block by block.

TAKING MEANINGFUL ACTION

CBAW's mission is backed by a philosophy of transformation through action. The core of our organization's activity is the innovative Social Consortia.

Consortias are essential organizations in cross-sector digital technology development between corporations. CBAW applies this successful model in the equally challenging sphere of collaboration for necessary and valuable social change.

The same fundamental principles apply: as the Consortia, CBAW provides the framework and underlying principles for uniting diverse counterparties to co-create, test and apply solutions.

Our Social Consortia projects involve working group roundtables, educational events, research projects and publications. Contact us to see how your organization can get engaged.

TRANSFORMATIVE PARTNERSHIPS

Diverse engagement in support of inclusion and enhanced employment opportunities for women is critical to moving our economy forward.

As one of Canada's strongest emerging economic drivers, digital technologies are the path to a bright future - yet one where women are heavily underrepresented.

To create lasting and meaningful change, solutions need to be creative, collaborative and built on a foundation of strong values.

CBAW's Social Consortia is an innovative way of bringing ecosystem, NFP and industry members to the table to generate ideas, shape projects and take an active role in supporting our mission.

Membership fees support the Consortia's projects, events and operations.

CBAW's valued Social Consortia members are our important partners in building a strong future for women in the digital technology industry, and we strive to show our appreciation in a number of ways:

- Participation in our research, consortia projects and working group roundtables
- Profiling of our member's leadership in technology diversity in a published article
- Publication of member-created content through CBAW's website and media channels
- Recognition in our media and events
- Discounts on educational seminars and courses
- Invitations to our annual AGM
- Free or discounted event tickets

Thank you for demonstrating your commitment to digital diversity by considering Consortia membership.
